Our dispatches this evening are unusually full and interesting. President Lincoln issues a proclamation whose recommendations will be gladly responded to next Sabbath, by a grateful people.

PROCTER & GAMBLE, 20 Dist., Wis.)

Messrs Editors.—It is for the interest of the public to know that the original quota of this District under the last call, which was 3,672 has been reduced to 1,198 by corrections to the enrollment and 1,250 more by credits to the district at large, not previously allowed, leaving 1,218 the present number required. These 1,218 however are exclusive of deficiencies of sub-districts on previous calls which will be added to the number due from each, and a draft will be made in any sub-district not furnishing the required number.

It is impossible to assign the exact quota of sub-districts as the corrections to the enrollment have not been completed, but it will probably not be more than thirty or forty per cent of the number announced before the reductions above mentioned were made. The quotas will be announced at the earliest possible moment and enlistments in the mean time will be conducted up to the day of draft.

S. J. M. PUTNAM.

CAPT. & PRO. MAR. 20 DIST. WIS.

It will be seen by the above communication that sub-districts yet in arrears on men have a time to fill their quota before the draft. Hurry up the enlistments.

FIRE IN MILWAUKEE.—The Black Warrior Elevator, situated near the Menomonee Bridge on the south side of river in Milwaukee was consumed by fire early Sunday morning. It was occupied by Huguenin and Company, and contained about 20,000 bushels of wheat, corn and oats. Insured for $45,000. The flames communicated to the lumber yard of B. B. Jones, and destroyed $10,000 worth of lumber.

It seems by a speech recently delivered in Milwaukee that George B. Smith is the author of that plank in the copperhead platform which declares for a "free election or a free fight." Ever since George opposed the Ryan Address on the ground of expediency, he has been in bad odor with the caps, but this blood and thunder resolution must get him right.

It is said of a well-known conservative of Boston, the distinguished George S. Hillard, that he has avowed his purpose to sustain Mr. Lincoln, although opposing him in 1860. He puts it on eminently patriotic ground. The rebellion was inaugurated when he represented the national authority. Let it be restored under the same auspices.

THE STEAMER HECET, which arrived at Halifax, brings news of a settlement of the difficulties between our Government and that of Egypt. The British authorities have forbidden either United States or rebel war vessels being taken into English ports for the purpose of being dismantled and sold.

There has been no order issued yet for the draft to proceed, and it will probably not take place under ten days at least, as it will require that time to get ready. This district having only 1218 men to raise, can easily fill up without a draft if every one does what he can.

The Union men in Ohio are preparing for a vigorous canvass in that State.—Leading Union men, including Governor Brough, ex-Governor Dennison, Senator Sherman, R. C. Schenck, and Columbus Delano are announced to speak at different points in the State.

LATE INTELLIGENCE from Japan is favorable to the preservation of peace and the removal of restrictions on commerce. Some of the leading princes, who were zealous opponents of intercourse with foreign powers, have been converted to free trade doctrines.

The Union citizens of Tennessee are to hold a convention at Nashville, on the 5th inst., to consider the propriety and means of re-organizing a civil government in that State, and take part in the Presidential election.

The Daily Wisconsin says that the Milwaukee copperheads have been fearfully demoralized since they heard the recent good news from Atlanta. They look gloomy as everybody ought when their friends suffer disaster.

GOVERNOE SRIVOUR and lady left Milwaukee on Sunday afternoon for their home in Albany. They had been the guests of Alexander Mitchell, Esq.

HON. WALTER D. McLEOD has furnished a representative recruit for the army, although he is not liable to draft by reason of the loss of one hand.

The Milwaukee papers say that almost every train and boat that leaves there now bears off a number of snarks running away from the draft.

The Advertiser is expected in New York soon. The Goethites are preparing to give her a grand reception.

UNION MEETING LAST NIGHT.—The meeting was called to order by J. M. Burgess, Esq. Col. Robinson was elected President and A. A. Jackson, Secretary. On motion of J. M. Burgess, Esq., a committee of five, consisting of Messrs. Burgess, Sutherland, Burpee, Patman and Strasberger, were appointed to prepare a plan of organization. The committee made the following report, which was adopted.

The committee recommended the organization of a Republican Union Club for the city of Janesville immediately, with the usual officers, also that the meeting be held by such Club at least once a week during the present Presidential Campaign.

The committee further recommended the appointment of a committee of five persons by this meeting, one from each ward and one from the city at large, to confer with the County and Town Committees, with reference to holding a Mass County Convention for Rock County as soon as practicable.

The committee making the above report were appointed the committee to confer with the County and Town Committees in relation to holding a Mass meeting. The meeting then elected the following officers.

John R. Bennett, President.

VICE PRESIDENTS, Robtson and S.C. Burnham.

W. A. Lawrence, Corresponding Sec'y. C. S. Strasberger, Recording Sec'y. S. Holden, Jr., Treasurer.

On motion of S. J. M. Putnam a committee of three consisting of Messrs. Putnam, Jackman and May were appointed a committee to procure speakers for the club.

Mr. Pendleton, the copperhead candidate for Vice President, sought to render the Executive powerless on the apprehension of the three Baltimore Police Commissioners, by a resolution introduced into the House of Representatives, December 10th, 1861, declaring that the abolitionists could only be suspended by Congress.

The resolution was laid on the table yeas 108, nays 26: the mover and Pendleton being among the latter. Another charging resolution by him was tabled, December 13, 1861. February 29, 1862, he introduced a resolution declaring Vallandigham's arrest unconstitutional.

The House rejected it—yeas, 47; nays, 77. July 31, 1861, he offered a resolution on State Equality and Emancipation—uled out of order by the speaker. Mr. Pendleton's efforts in Congress were not conspicuous, but always in the Secession interest.—N. Y. Tribune.

A LARGE OFFER FOR A HORSE.—We understand that Mr. Welch of Philadelphia, lately offered Mr. Rydsk, of Orange county, thirty thousand dollars for his celebrated stallion Hambletonian. This is the highest price, we believe, that has ever been offered for a horse in this country.

Hambletonian is the sire of George Wilkes (formerly Robert Fliegengum) and a great many other first class trotters. He is a magnificent horse, remarkably well bred for producing road-horses, and is unquestionably doing more towards improving our fast trotting than any other horse of which we have any knowledge. Mr. Rydsk declined Mr. Welch's offer.—Wilkes Spring.

The New York Herald advises McClellan to decline the nomination tendered him by the peace men at Chicago, and one or two papers have suggested the probability of his doing so. Hon. Alexander Long, of Ohio, says McClellan cannot accept upon the platform after his West Point oration without stultifying himself. But let these gentlemen possess their souls in patience. They have not thoroughly studied their man. From the moment General McClellan was transferred to the Army of the Potomac, the copperhead politicians of the country commenced to manufacture a Presidential candidate out of him, and all his military operations were planned more with reference to taking the White House than to the taking of Richmond. McClellan's autobiography which he has written and published at the public expense under the name of a Report, was the work of a politician rather than that of a military man.

That he will accept there can be no doubt, although it may take him six or eight weeks to write a letter that shall be as non-committal as the Janus-faced plenum upon which he is expected to stand.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.—A countrymen walked into the office of Lawyer Barnes on day and began his application: "Barney, I have come to get your advice in a case that is giving me some trouble." "Well, what is the matter?" "Suppose now" said the client, "that a man had one spring of water on his land, and his neighbor living below should build a dam across the creek through both farms, and it was to back the water up into the other man's spring, what ought to be done?" "See him, sir, sue him, by all means," said the lawyer, who always became excited in proportion to the aggravation of his clients. "You can recover heavy damages sir, and the law will make him well for it. Just give me the case, and I'll bring the money from him; and if he hasn't a great deal of property, it will break him up sir."

"But stop, Barnes," cried the terrified applicant for legal advice, "it's neighbor Jones that owns the spring, and he threatens to sue me."

The keen lawyer hesitated a moment before he tucked his ship, and kept on.

"Ah! well, sir, you say you built a dam across that creek. What sort of a dam was it, sir?"

"It was a mill-dam."

"A mill-dam for grinding grain was it?"

"Yes, it was just that."

"And it is a good neighboring mill, is it?"

"So it is, sir, and you will say so."

"And all your neighbors bring their grain to be ground, do they?"

"Yes, they do."

"Then it is a great public convenience, is it not?"

"To be sure it is; I would not have built it for that. It is so far superior to any other mill, sir."

"And now," said the old lawyer, "you tell me that man Jones is complaining just because the water from the dam happens to put back into his little spring, and is now threatening to sue you. Well all I have to say is, let him sue, and he'll sue the day as sure as my name is Barnes."

TOO BAD.—The Louisville Press imparts the distressing intelligence that Jesse D. Bright, late United States Senator from Indiana, has sold his Kentucky possessions, freed his slaves, giving each a sum of money to commence the world with, and has, with his family, gone to Europe, there to remain till after the war.

THE CLEVELAND Herald gives a long account of a man by the name of Rev. A. S. Dobbs, recently showing the spiritual manifestations of the well-known "Fay Brothers" to be a miserable humbug. Dobbs does everything he can, and explains how he does it. The Cleveland Herald says the exposure of the deceit is complete.

CAPTAIN DAVIDSON, President of the La-Grosse line of steamers, has sent a force of men to build wing-dams on the worst bars between St. Paul and Hastings, so as to deepen the channel. Without some such improvement, which he has undertaken at his own expense, the boats may have to quit running up higher than Prescott.

THE UNION CONVENTION for the First Congressional District meets tomorrow in Racine. The Wisconsin says it is suggested that all sections of the Union party could be thoroughly united on Matt. H. Carpenter, Levi Hubbard, Edward H. Brodhead, or ex-Gov. Salomon.

STEALING THE REBEL SOLDIERS:—A correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel, writing from General Sherman's army, gives the following account of the manner in which our boys steal rebel soldiers. He says:

"The 'Jonnies' on our front have been disposed, during the past week, to be friendly to us; of an hour or two each day are now indulged in, giving the boys an opportunity to stretch themselves. Trading during the continuance of a truce is very brisk, tobacco and coffee furnishing the staple for commercial transactions.

The neutral ground on which the barter trade was carried was at a spring about midway between the two picket lines, in a ravine of sufficient depth to hide the traders from both lines. 'Things was workin' bully for our side up to yesterday, when the little arrangement was quelled by the rebel officers. It seems that of the number which came down to the spring to trade only about one in ten went back, our boys making about a hundred Johnnies a day by the transaction. In the language of eastern jobbers, the 'spring trade' was very promising.

The wheat crop is coming in better than was expected. Winter wheat ranges from 20 to 30 bushels per acre, and spring from 5 to 10, where it has been threshed. There will be considerable for market from this country.—Prairie du Chien Union.

Speech by Gen. Burnside.

CENTRE HARBOR, N. H., Aug 30, 1861. General Burnside arrived last night at this place, from the White Mountains, on his way to resume his command. His arrival speedily becoming known large numbers of citizens from the neighboring towns assembled, and with Belknap's cornet band, serenaded the general, who, in response to the compliment, appeared on the balcony of his hotel, amidst the cheers of the multitude, and spoke as follows:

"My friends, I am sure you will excuse me from making any extended remarks on this occasion, because, in the first place, it is not my habit to address public assemblies, and just now I am returning from a brief pleasure trip through your beautiful country, during which I have purposely enjoyed recreation, and thought as little as possible of official or public business. It will not be amiss, however, for me to say that I have the fullest confidence in the ability of the Government to crush out this wicked rebellion. I feel that the day is not far distant when the despondency which now prevails will totally disappear, and the people of the North will see, that the end is at hand. Only united effort is needed to enable the Government to move still more quickly. I refer to this because I have lately witnessed this despondency, and been surprised at it. Why, I heard more grumbling at the North in three days than I heard in our whole campaign from the Rapidan to Petersburg. People seem to think that our armies are wearing out without corresponding exhaustion of the enemy. This is a mistake. Our resources in the field are greater than his. We have three times his home resources untouched, and can lose far more than the South and still break down the rebellion. I repeat, there is no cause for despondency. Let every citizen do all in his power and the result is sure. It is not possible that any cause so founded in iniquity as this rebellion should succeed. But, independent of the right and wrong, I assure you from observations that we have the strength and will to conquer."

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.—A countrymen walked into the office of Lawyer Barnes on day and began his application:

"Barney, I have come to get your advice in a case that is giving me some trouble." "Well, what is the matter?"

"Suppose now" said the client, "that a man had one spring of water on his land, and his neighbor living below should build a dam across the creek through both farms, and it was to back the water up into the other man's spring, what ought to be done?"

"See him, sir, sue him, by all means," said the lawyer, who always became excited in proportion to the aggravation of his clients. "You can recover heavy damages sir, and the law will make him well for it. Just give me the case, and I'll bring the money from him; and if he hasn't a great deal of property, it will break him up sir."

"But stop, Barnes," cried the terrified applicant for legal advice, "it's neighbor Jones that owns the spring, and he threatens to sue me."

The keen lawyer hesitated a moment before he tucked his ship, and kept on.

"Ah! well, sir, you say you built a dam across that creek. What sort of a dam was it, sir?"

"It was a mill-dam."

"A mill-dam for grinding grain was it?"

"Yes, it was just that."

"And it is a good neighboring mill, is it?"

"So it is, sir, and you will say so."

"And all your neighbors bring their grain to be ground, do they?"

"Yes, they do."

"Then it is a great public convenience, is it not?"

"To be sure it is; I would not have built it for that. It is so far superior to any other mill, sir."

"And now," said the old lawyer, "you tell me that man Jones is complaining just because the water from the dam happens to put back into his little spring, and is now threatening to sue you. Well all I have to say is, let him sue, and he'll sue the day as sure as my name is Barnes."

STORY, of the Chicago Times, was talked of for Vice-President in the Chicago Convention, but it is said that he temporarily declined unless the Convention would agree to nominate his great idol and model, Jeff Davis, for President! In that case Story would have accepted. Story was more consistent than the balance of the crowd.
